1: Jointly Developed Expectations and Objectives

Describe how the School works with parents and families to develop and review relevant plans, policies, and strategies related to engagement.

Guiding Questions

- 1.1: How does the School - in collaboration with parents - establish an engagement plan that reflects the specific academic improvement needs of the School, and that includes programs and practices that enhance engagement and address the specific engagement needs of students and their families?
[A.C.A. § 6-15-1702(a)]
- 1.2: What efforts have been made to ensure adequate representation of parents and families of participating children in the process (Title I families)?
[ESSA § 1116(c)(3)]

- School leaders will share with teachers and families the specific academic improvement needs of the school. Administration and teachers will provide resources to assist families in meaningful engagement activities to support their students in these areas. Various localized outings, such as the Book Fairs in September also provide opportunities to provide hands-on training and role modeling for parents on techniques such as discussing literature with their students.
- ARVA will provide materials and training to assist parents in supporting their child's academic achievement. Materials and training include, but are not limited to, hands-on manipulatives, access to the online school curriculum and tutorials, educational publications, school newsletter, supplemental online resources and assessment tools such as online workshops or resources on topics indicated in the parental needs survey such as literacy training and using technology and the harms of copyright piracy, schooling effectively at home, math instruction, and frequent parent-teacher conferences where specific strategies pertinent to the families'/students' needs can be addressed.

- The school will ask parents to fill out a parent interest survey yearly to gather additional information from parents concerning the activities they feel have been or would be most beneficial and how the school could help build the parental capacity to best support their child academically. Reasonable requests for additional meetings will be considered. For more information, contact Gina Moore: gmoore@arva.org.
- The Arkansas Virtual Academy High School has a Parent and Family Engagement Plan developed jointly with parents and revised each year based on an annual needs survey which reflects programs and practices that enhance parental engagement and address the specific parent engagement needs of the students and their families as well as the specific academic improvement needs of the school. Parents can give input and suggestions for revision of the school plan through surveys and participation in the Parent and Family Engagement Committee. The school will submit any parent comments to the district if the Title I Schoolwide Plan is not satisfactory to parents. A parent-friendly copy of the plan will be posted on the school's website and shared through the Information Packet and as a supplement to the Student Handbook. For more information, contact Gina Moore, gmoore@arva.org.
- All parents and learning coaches of students are invited to participate in the evaluation and development through the Family Needs Assessment and throughout the year. The Parent and Family Engagement Committee will meet regularly and, as a virtual school that serves the state of Arkansas, will utilize video conferencing, like Zoom, along with email correspondence for communication. For more information, contact Gina Moore, gmoore@arva.org.
- The school will ensure that information is sent in a language and format that parents and families can understand as well as utilizing a variety of outreach methods when appropriate (such as email and phone calls, social media posts, our online Learning Coach Community, newsletters, website links, and auto-text messages). ARVA will also take the necessary steps to ensure that communication with parents with disabilities or whose first language is not English, etc. are as effective as communications with other parents to allow these parents an equal opportunity to participate in their child's education. Contact: Gina Moore, gmoore@arva.org or Michele Newnum, minewnum@arva.org

Highlighted selections are advertised in newsletters and social media sites to give parents who can't go to the office an opportunity to take part of this resource where the book/resource could be mailed to them. Because families are spread throughout the state, families are also provided with online resources through newsletters and social media sites throughout the year. The parent corner also includes recipe books for nutritional meal planning and preparation, and they are also shared through newsletters and online resources.
- Parents are also invited to participate in the vast wealth of resources provided by our partner, the Cook Center/ParentGuidance.org where they can receive educated support in parent coaching, understanding their child's mental health needs and how they can support them, and attending webinars on various topics of interests for their child's developmental stage.

The PFEC reviews and evaluates the Parent and Family Engagement Plans every year, discusses ways to implement various aspects of the engagement plans including parent engagement programs, activities, and procedures and collaborates on other issues that pertain to our school. The PFEC will also participate in the development of schoolwide programs outside of the regular curriculum through analysis of parent engagement surveys, so they are knowledgeable in how the school works and how to best support families.
